

One connection. Multiple cores.

Our API connectivity gives you control by bridging the gap between disparate banking core systems and your platform with one simplified connection.

Connectivity to 99% of US-based cores

Kinective is not like the rest.

- 25+ years of banking industry specific experience and understanding
- Deep-rooted relationships with cores and fintech providers
- Largest offering of core, hardware, and business system integrations on the market
- Commitment to improvement and evolution of products and services
- Gain the ability to say YES! to thousands of financial institutions
- Turn-key solution for secure, comprehensive, and supported connectivity

Unlock the banking market with turn-key core integrations.

Skip custom development. Get instant access to a huge banking market.

Focus your resources on product enhancements, not connectivity.

Skip building individual APIs, focus on features. Integrate with banking cores via pre-built APIs.

Unleash your solutions to thousands of financial institutions.

Skip the line, integrate now through Kinective one time and gain access to a core's network of FIs.

Fast-track your fintech by partnering with Kinective.

IN - HOUSE

Do-It-Yourself API integration

- Unpredictable and long timeline to gain core's permission to connect
- You incur the cost of connection and maintenance

Speed to Market

- Siphon resources from your products to create entry-level integrations with limited testing

Quality of Integration

- Development doesn't typically start until AFTER first sale
- Unpredictable costs
- One build, for limited opportunities

First Connection Development

- Start from square one with each new connection
- Incur all the same costs again

Additional Connections Development

- High risk of falling out of compliance without dedicated resources

Connection Updates and Maintenance

KINETIVE

Kinective's Gateway

- We already have the connections to the cores
- We take on the cost of the connection and maintenance

- Advanced integrations built with scalability in mind and test rigorously

- Less than 6 months to go-live
- One-time upfront cost
- One build, practically unlimited opportunities

- Hit the ground running with help from us to get early-adopter clients
- Predictable pricing

- Low-monthly maintenance costs to stay up-to-date and compliant

Kinective is the premium choice for core connectivity.
