Migrate high-cost transactions to self-service.

Choice of brands & hardware

Full transaction set capabilities

Self, assisted & full-service capabilities

Automate without compromise

As the cost of transactions soar, how can you migrate to more efficient self-service channels while still delivering a personal touch? With Kiosk.

Kiosk integrates kiosks directly to your banking core, allowing for full transaction capabilities and real-time client access to funds. This solution helps reduce overhead costs by minimizing the reliance on staff to complete costly simple transactions.

Plus, with assisted-service and full-service functionality, Kiosk helps you migrate to more efficient channels without sacrificing the personal touch needed to engage clients. You can meet clients where they are while still gradually introducing self-service in your branches.
